THE NEW YORK
PUBLIC LIBRARY

ASTOR, LENOX &
TILDEN FOUNDATION

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1893, by TROW DIRECTORY, PRINTING AND BOOKBINDING COMPANY,
In the Office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington.

PREFACE.

THE New York City Directory is the oldest publication now in existence in this country, and the publishers have a proper pride in presenting the 107th Volume of the work to the public, feeling entirely confident that for accuracy, completeness, and in all the essential qualities which render it valuable and indispensable to New Yorkers, the work has steadily grown under their hands, and is now more nearly what it should be and what they have endeavored to make it than it has ever been before.

It is of course the duty, as it is for the interest, of the publishers to increase the value of the work and render it more serviceable to the public, and all the experience and all the resources at their command are directed to these ends; at the same time equal care is taken that the insertion of names of the considerable number of people to be found in all large cities, whose abode is migratory, is kept at the minimum, as it is but a waste of labor and material to gather and print the names of people who will have moved several times in the interval between the taking of their names and the publication of the Directory, and every effort is made to prevent duplication. By ignoring these rules it would be quite an easy matter for the publishers to swell the size of the Directory to double its present volume, nothing would be gained, however, BUT THE PRIVILEGE OF BOASTING OF HAVING MORE NAMES THAN ANY OTHER DIRECTORY.

In all kinds of bookmaking some assistance can be derived from preceding labor, but in making a Directory every year the work has to be begun afresh, as experience has taught us that it is more expeditious to proceed in this manner than to attempt to make corrections, additions, and erasures in the preceding year's Directory; therefore each year's Directory is compiled without regard to its predecessors.

We are pleased to say that in most cases there is shown an obliging and intelligent disposition on the part of housekeepers and business men to furnish the information required to the canvassers who are employed to gather the necessary facts for the Directory; but in some cases it is refused from sinister motives, and in others from caprice or a natural disinclination to give anything or do anything for other people's benefit. If those who lightly esteem the value of the City Directory would consider for a moment what would be the disastrous result and confusion, loss of time, and inconvenience, that would be the necessary consequences to the lack of such an indispensable assistant, not only to business men, but to every inhabitant and nearly every stranger who visits the city, and if there should be any one so exacting and unreasonable as to demand absolute perfection in such a work as this, which must of a necessity be undertaken anew and completed within a period of sixty days, let him reflect on the complicated machinery and the enormous amount of labor to be employed in collecting and arranging in alphabetical order all the names of the heads of families, of business men and housekeepers, in this city, with their places of business, their dwelling-houses and occupations, and he will not, we are confident, be so much disposed to complain of an error as to wonder at the existence of so small a number.

In consulting the file of the New York City Directories for past years, we find that in 1843, just fifty years ago, the Directory of the City of New York contained but 59,027 names, while our records for this year show that our canvassers on the following streets, Broadway, Wall Street, Nassau Street, Bowery, Madison Avenue, Fifth Avenue, Grand Street, William Street, Second Avenue, and Third Avenue, have returned to us 60,208 names, or more names on ten streets than was obtained from the whole city fifty years ago. The present volume contains about 400,000 names, the collecting of which required the services of 175 canvassers for 20 days, and a force of 40 men 30 days to examine, compile, and arrange for the printer.

During the past two years we have received several letters complaining of the inaccuracy of that section of our City Map descriptive of the territory north of the Harlem River. We take this opportunity to say that it is utterly impossible to obtain a correct map of that section of the city until the authorities have fully determined what changes are to be made, and maps are drawn in accordance therewith.
