PREFACE TO THE EIGHTY-FIFTH VOLUME.

1871-'72.

It has been the constant aim of the present publisher of the Directory, ever since he assumed the charge of the work, now twenty years, to keep it always up with the times, and abreast with the general improvements in the city in all other departments of labor; and the public have given unmistakable evidence of their approval of his exertions. If the Directory has not met all the requisitions for such a work, it has at least come so near doing it that no one has thought it possible to come nearer, and the confessed completeness and cheapness of the work have defied competition. But the fact that no competitor has entered the field, and that he enjoys it in undisturbed possession, has not made him any the less anxious or determined to make it worthy of popular approval. In this free country of ours, where skill, capital, energy, and enterprise are always eagerly seeking for new fields of profitable exertion, it is a very rare circumstance indeed that any one is permitted to make a monopoly of any kind of productive employment. The publication of the Directory is probably a solitary instance, and the cause of it is obvious enough. In all other publications a copyright may be secured, and the publisher, having once brought out his volume, may continue to reap his profits year after year without making any change in his stereotype plates. But in publishing the Directory no copyright can be made available. The work must be re-created every year, and an entirely new volume made out of new materials. It is a never-ending, still-beginning labor,—a constantly revolving circle, but a constantly renewing one. The only advantage which the last year's labors give is that they are a preparation for the next one. The experience required, necessary to anything like a satisfactory result in the production of the Directory, cannot be had outside of the office in which, for so many years, it has been so successfully conducted. To get up a new Directory, therefore, which would be any approach to what the public requires, would be a sheer impossibility, and any one undertaking such a task would have the dismal prospect before him of many years of failure before a sufficient degree of experience could be obtained to make success a possibility. There are few persons in this busy age, which holds out so many allurements to various employments, in which a reasonable amount of capital and ability would be sure of a profitable return, who will be willing to enter upon so hazardous an enterprise as the compilation and publication of a City Directory. Some attempts by reckless adventurers have been made, but with such disastrous results as to render a repetition the most improbable of industrial undertakings. With a perfect feeling of security against any competitors, however, the publisher continues his work as though he had a dozen rivals, and tries every possible means to keep up the value of the work without increasing its cost to the purchaser. The present volume will be found as nearly complete as any of its predecessors, and, in many respects, it will be found superior. If it be not absolutely perfect, it will be found to be so near it that it can hardly fail to excite the wonder and admiration of those who reflect upon the amount of labor which it represents, of the great number of agents employed in its compilation, and the very brief time allowed for its completion. It is not, like a census, a mere enumeration of the number of persons within the limits of the city, for that would be an easy and inexpensive task to fulfil, but it is the collection of the names of all the heads of families, of all business men and firms, of all the housekeepers, and the residents whose place of abode is likely ever to be sought for; and these names must not only be given with accuracy as to their orthography, but with accuracy as to the street, the place, and the number of their residence.

In addition to many other improvements, the publisher has this year procured new type for the express purpose of giving the utmost clearness and distinctness to the letter-press, and a new map of the city has been engraved and properly colored, which includes the whole Island, and marks all the changes that have been made in recent street openings, and in the two water-fronts of the city. New and important changes will necessarily be effected in the lines of the map of the city by the projected Viaduct Railway, which has not been commenced, and by the execution of the plans of the Dock Commissioners in the new piers and wharves to be constructed on the North and East river-fronts. But these will be attended to in the publication of the map next year.

The publisher submits the Directory for the year 1871–'72 to the public, with entire confidence that it will be found, in all essential respects, the best arranged and the nearest approach to what he feels it ought to be of any that has yet been published.

The Directory for 1871–'72 contains 200,953 names.

LABORATORY BELLEVUE HOSPITAL,
New York, May 4, 1871.

MESSRS. BOLEN & BYRNE:

SIRS:

I have examined the apparatus employed by your establishment, and subjected samples of the Selters, Vichy, Kissingen, and Carbonic Acid Water to a careful analysis. I have found them to be intelligently prepared, well carbonated, free from deleterious substances, and consider them to be reliable substitutes for the natural waters.

Respectfully,

ELEGANT CARRIAGES
In all the Fashionable Styles,
EXCLUSIVELY OF THEIR OWN BUILD.
Sole manufacturers of the "Brewster Wagon,"
THE STANDARD
For STYLE and QUALITY.

☞NOTICE.—The public will please remember that we have no interest in a Joint Stock Co. of carriage dealers, organized less than two years ago, under a name very similar to our own, and now impudently advertising itself as "The Old House of Brewster, established 1838."

CHARLIER

French and English Institute

FOR YOUNG GENTLEMEN.

CLASSICAL AND COMMERCIAL SCHOOL,

WITH BOARDING AND PRIMARY DEPARTMENTS.

Nos. 126, 128, and 130 East 24th Street,

NEAR MADISON PARK.

Old Nos. 48, 50, 52, Bet. Fourth and Lexington Avenues.

SEVENTEENTH YEAR.

The pupils of this School (over a thousand in number) are to be found at West Point, at the Naval Academy, the Army, the Counting House, many Colleges and Professions.

The studies pursued embrace all the studies necessary for a liberal instruction. Pupils can commence when seven years of age in the Primary Department, and continue until they are seventeen or eighteen, ready for their future profession.

German, Spanish, and French are taught by native teachers. American pupils are obliged to speak French, the only way to acquire it in a foreign country.

As heretofore, I will devote to my School all my time and energy, surrounded with a large body of teachers and all the resources presented by a large city. I will do my utmost to continue to deserve the confidence and esteem of my pupils' parents.

Complete obedience, cheerful and prompt obedience, truth in everything, and work—such are my rules. I shall not fail to enforce them, even if I have to dismiss any pupil refusing compliance with them, or exerting an evil influence in the School. The classes in my institution may be visited at all times by the parents or guardians of the pupil.

It is a rule with my assistants and myself to accustom our pupils to use their powers of reflection and of reasoning throughout the course of their studies. We do not ask them to work beyond their powers, but require strictly the performance of their tasks; in a word, we wish them to exert themselves conscientiously.

THE ACADEMIC YEAR, 1871-72, will extend from the 18th of September to the 21st of June. For all details, terms, and further information, see the Prospectus of the School, which contains the names of my pupils, and those of their parents, for the last sixteen years.

ELIE CHARLIER,
Director.

On May 1st, 1873, this School will be moved on 59th Street, between Sixth and Seventh Avenues, opposite Central Park.

SEVENTEENTH YEAR, 1871-72.

SEE REMARKS ON NEXT PAGE.

A FEW TESTIMONIALS.

From General J. S. Wadsworth.

My son James has been in Mr. Charlier's School as a boarding pupil for the last eight years.

July, 1863. J. S. WADSWORTH.

From Hon. E. Delafield Smith, U. S. District Attorney.

Prof. ELIE CHARLIER, Dear Sir: I intrust my son Harold to you with confidence.

September 10, 1861. E. DELAFIELD SMITH.

From D. D. Lord, Lawyer.

For ten consecutive years my sons were at Mr. Charlier's School, one for six, the other for five years. Both left him to enter College.

July, 1866. D. D. LORD.

From A. Gracie King, Banker.

Fifteen years ago, when Prof. Charlier opened his School, my nephews were put under his charge and remained with him, one of them for eight years. My own son has been with Mr. Charlier for ten years.

May, 1870. A. GRACIE KING.

From T. Bailey Myers, Esq.,

(Father of Midshipman Mason, who saved the lives of two sailors at Rio de Janeiro.)

DEAR SIR: I presume that the notice of your pupil has already met your eye, but I send it to you as you are entitled to a great deal of the credit of forming a boy fit for a noble act. . . I have been amused to hear my boy telling those now in your school, "Good, stick to it, he will make a man of you."

NEW YORK, April, 1869. Yours truly, T. BAILEY MYERS.

ELIE CHARLIER, Director.

On May 1st, 1873, this School will be moved on 59th St., bet. 6th and 7th Aves., opposite Central Park.

NEW YORK, 1871.

PHELPS, JEWETT & CO. Furniture of every description 266 Canal Street, New York.

Mme. Demorest's

FULL SIZED CUT PATTERNS.

In order to facilitate the choice of purchasers, give definiteness to designs, and some assistance to the maker of the garment, we have decided hereafter to inclose each plain pattern, sold or sent from our establishment, in a printed envelope, with full directions, and having a handsome illustration of the garment when made, forming a small, neat, attractive package. Each style of pattern will be cut in various sizes, so that a knowledge of the bust measure will indicate the size, to insure a fit. All patterns will be furnished in this complete form, at the reduced cost found on the envelope, and also in the price list. Branches appointed on favorable terms. Send for Circular.

Plain and Elegantly Trimmed Paper Models, of all the Latest, most Accurate, and Desirable Styles for Ladies' and Children's Dress.

Set of one dozen elegantly trimmed Ladies' Patterns, to include a Dress with the Plain Patterns pinned to each, and show-card $5.00

Set of Six articles (Dress not included)..... ..... 2.50

These patterns will furnish an elegant display for a Show Room.

Ladies and Dressmakers may rely on each pattern being cut with accuracy.
