PACKARD'S BUSINESS COLLEGE

AND

SCHOOL OF STENOGRAPHY.

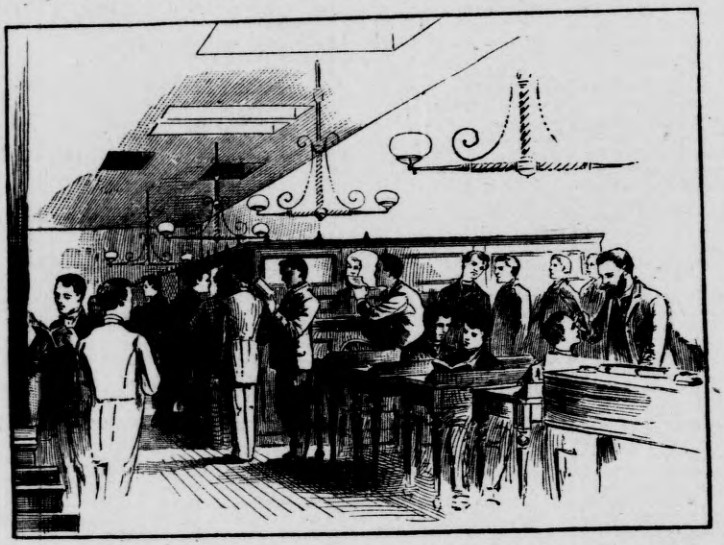
Established in 1858, and now the most vigorous school for business education in the country.

It has recently removed to the splendid building on the corner of Twenty-third Street and Fourth Avenue, formerly occupied by the College of Physicians and Surgeons, which has been rebuilt and refitted for the use of the college at a cost of more than thirty thousand dollars, and is now, by universal consent, the most elegant and commodious building for its purpose in the United States.

This institution is under the sole management of its founder, who has gathered around him a corps of assistants well equipped for their work. The attendance during the past year has been greatly in advance of any previous year, the full limit of the increased space having been reached. The addition of the Department of Civics has given great zest to the work and opened up a wider field for study and culture.

The main branches of study, as heretofore, are Book-keeping, Penmanship, Arithmetic, Shorthand, Typewriting, Commercial Correspondence and Commercial Law, to which are added the studies of the Department of Civics, embracing Political History, Political Economy, and the various considerations which underlie American citizenship.

[OVER.]



THE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

WHICH ALL INTELLIGENT NEW YORKERS COMMEND IS

PACKARD'S BUSINESS COLLEGE,

Now located on the corner of Twenty-third Street and Fourth Avenue.

This school was established in 1858, and has been the leading school for practical education in the city during its entire history. It has graduated over five thousand pupils, and had in attendance in its different departments, over fifteen thousand. Its former pupils are now occupying positions as Merchants, Bankers, Lawyers, Railroad Men, Accountants, Teachers, Preachers, Congressmen, Editors, and workers in all the useful enterprises of this great country; and wherever they are, and whatever they do, they are loyal friends of the school.

The increased facilities which have been secured by removal to the new quarters in the reconstructed building formerly occupied by the College of Physicians and Surgeons, has enabled the proprietor to add many new features and to greatly improve the course of instruction.

A new illustrated circular has recently been published wherein all the points of the school are fittingly set forth.

This document will be sent on application.

Abundance of Hot Water,
Large Ovens,
Economical.

They please the COOKS.

"PERFECT" FIRE-PLACE HEATER.

1888 "PERFECT" 1888
Fire-Place Heaters,

Will heat larger rooms. More easily managed.

Has greater heating capacity than any Room Heater.

The cold winters of from 1882 to 1888 have demonstrated this fact in hundreds of cases.

The only Heater conforming with the present style of interior architecture and household ornamentation.

Owing to its construction it heats powerfully below and above, by creating a circulation of warm air, in addition to the large direct radiation surfaces. Is larger, has greater heating capacity, will do more work, will last longer, will use less fuel, and is more easily managed, than any Heater ever introduced.
