NEW YORK CITY DIRECTORY.

FOR THE YEAR ENDING

JULY 1, 1893.

PUBLISHED ANNUALLY

Price, Seven Dollars and Fifty Cents.

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1892, by TROW DIRECTORY, PRINTING AND BOOKBINDING COMPANY,
In the Office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington.

PREFACE.

For the one hundred and sixth time the canvassers for the City Directory have called upon the inhabitants of this city for information as to their name, business, place of business, and residence, and for the same number of times have the compilers, compositors, proof-readers, printers, and binders aided in furnishing to the citizens of this city a work whose absence would create widespread confusion and inconvenience. But what a difference between the first effort and the last! The labors of the first canvassers ceased at about where Chambers Street now is, covering a territory ¾ of a mile square; while those of the last ended at the southern line of the city of Yonkers, covering a territory of 41 square miles. Who can tell how many square miles will have to be covered in gathering information for the Directory of 1992?

Yet with the greatly increased territory and population, the date of publication has been but slightly prolonged, as we find by consulting our records, that thirty-six years ago, when the Directory contained but 150,000 names, and the territory covered did not extend beyond Fifty-ninth Street, that the date of publication was June 16th, while the present volume, with 400,000 names and more than double the territory to cover, was issued on July 11th.

A few patrons of the Directory have complained at not getting it nearer May 1st. When it is remembered that the canvass is made anew every year, and cannot begin until May 2d (on account of the May-day removals), it should not be expected to have the new Directory in hand at the end of May, yet we get frequent inquiries about that time asking why the Directory is so late. Seventy days is not a long time to gather, compile, print, and bind a work of nearly 1,600 pages, and containing over 11,500,000 ems of type, and it could not be done in this short time were it not that our many years' experience has enabled us to reduce the labor in every detail to a minimum and yet not sacrifice repleteness and correctness.

As we stated in the Preface last year, "a work of this kind cannot be expected to be entirely free from inaccuracies. In spite of all precautions and efforts, errors will occur; many of which grow out of the perversity of the people who intentionally or innocently mislead the canvassers, and some from the inevitable blunders of proof-reading, though this trying process is rigidly repeated five times. Experience has proved that a certain percentage of typographical errors will occur in spite of every precaution. The publishers are always grateful to anyone who will be at the trouble of calling their attention to any error that may be detected in the Directory, or for any practical suggestion for its improvement, and would REQUEST EVERY-ONE TO CONSULT THE DIRECTORY AS SOON AS PUBLISHED to ascertain if their name and address are correctly printed; if not, drop a postal containing the correct information. But those who write us anonymous notes on various subjects connected with our business—and we receive a good many such—cannot expect any attention to be paid to them. Many of these anonymous communications are written to complain of mistakes or omissions which do not exist, and which the writers might know if they took half as much time to examine the work as they do to give us proof of their own want of intelligence or perseverance.

We are continually receiving complaints from our patrons, stating that someone has stolen their Directory, and asking us to make a rebate on a second copy, which, of course, we cannot do, and a moment's consideration will show that such propositions are unbusiness-like. In order that the purchasers of Directories may the better protect their Directory, we have had manufactured for the purpose a strong brass chain with brass tabs, which are readily applied to the Directory, either City or Business. We furnish these at the moderate sum of fifty cents each, or if we apply them, seventy-five cents each.

The present volume contains 393,224 names and addresses, being an increase over last year of 13,233 which, at the ratio of $4\frac{1}{5}$ to 1, gives New York a population of 1,651,540.

We subjoin an alphabetical list of the number of names appearing under each letter, showing also the increase over last year:
